

Book suggestion by Mrs Brooks

26.06.2020

Name of book: Holes

Author: Louis Sachar

Summary of book: Unlucky in near enough every part of his life, Stanley Yelnats, unfortunately finds himself in front of the courts for theft. His punishment, to attend 'Camp Green Lake' a facility to support young juveniles. Each day, Stanley and the other prisoners, must simply dig a hole. This hole must be the width and depth of the shovel given to him on arrival. The downfall for poor Stanley is the weather: blazing hot sun each and every day. During his time at 'Camp Green Lake' Stanley begins to explore the history of his prison and the lives of the other boys cohabitating with him. Will he manage to set the record straight? And why does he have to dig all of these holes? The story of Stanley has been adapted for film, so why not have a watch and compare to the original written version.

Recommendation ✓ box

Highly recommended	Satisfactory	Not recommended
✓		