

Transition Week British values Tasks

Academic

Can you create a leaflet about your person. What do they do? Where are they from? Why are they important to British history? How did they display British values and Beecroft's values?

Creative

Create a painting/ drawing or 3d model of your person or something related to what they did.

Technological

Write down 10 things you would like to know about your person and then use a computer, phone or tablet to find the answers. Create a fact file with this information.

Video

Film yourself presenting the information you have discovered about your person.

During the next academic year each class will learn about a significant person who shows British values.

Your child will be learning about : Stephen Hawking

Please complete 1 or 2 of the tasks above and send them to the Key Stage email address: uks2@beecroftacademy.co.uk
