Supporting you child at home

Anthea Cozens
Reading Leader

How can I support my child at home with reading?

- Take advantage of all reading opportunities:
 Listening to your child read whilst you cook
 Reading magazines/newspapers
 Reading road signs when in the car
 Subtitles on the television

- Access the online Oxford Owl website

To access the eBook library please <https://www.oxfordowl.co.uk/login>

Then, login using the username and password for your child's year group:

Year group	Username	Password

How can I support my child at home?

- Join and visit your nearest library (can be joined online)
- Talk to your children about what happens in the books they read – ask questions about the characters, where the book is set.
- Read aloud to your child
 - Choose the book together or as a family
 - Find a comfy space and/or a special time to share together
 - Don't rush the reading, stop and talk about what's happening in the book
 - Use different voices for the characters – children find this very appealing
